

Healthy Volunteers Needed

Healthy volunteers: The call to action is NOW!

According to the World Health Organization (WHO), there were nearly 228 million malaria cases and over 400,000 malaria deaths in 2018. A safe and effective malaria vaccine is needed to prevent malaria-related deaths.

Researchers at the National Institutes of Health (NIH) in Bethesda, Maryland are seeking healthy volunteers to screen for future investigational malaria research vaccine studies.

You may be able to participate in the study if you are:

- A healthy man, or non-pregnant woman, 18-50
- Available in the surrounding area for at least 1 year

Study visits will take place at the NIH Clinical Center in Bethesda, Maryland. All participants will be compensated.
